

Ken Britt Bio

Kenith C. Britt, Ph.D., is the proud husband to Jessica Britt, '03, and father to four beautiful daughters. Britt also is an accomplished leader in the field of education with a rich background in advancing institutions through strategic growth and innovation. Ken earned his Ph.D. in Educational Leadership from The Catholic University of America, an M.A. in Leadership Studies from Marshall University, and a B.A. in Elementary Education with a Minor in Mathematics from West Liberty University.

Since June 2013, Dr. Britt has been a transformative leader at Marian University Indianapolis, where he currently serves as Chief Operating Officer and Chancellor. In this role, he oversees academics, athletics, mission, enrollment, student life, and strategic growth initiatives across three campus locations. Under his leadership, the university has seen significant advancements in enrollment and marketing communications, contributing to its fundraising success of more than $50 million annually.

Previously, Dr. Britt served as SVP for Strategic Growth & Innovation, where he orchestrated the successful merger of marketing and enrollment departments, leading to record university enrollments. As the founding dean of the Fred S. Klipsch Educators College, he dramatically increased enrollment and raised $115 million to support the college's vision.

Dr. Britt's leadership extends beyond higher education. As President of Catholic Central School in Ohio and Chippewa Area Catholic Schools in Wisconsin, he implemented strategic plans that stabilized and grew these institutions.

An esteemed presenter and community leader, Dr. Britt has contributed to numerous conferences and publications on educational leadership and teacher preparation. His board appointments and memberships reflect his commitment to community service and educational excellence. His impact in Indianapolis led to his selection as Indy's Best and Brightest Award in 2017.
