Justin Reyes

Bio

Justin Reyes is the new Chancellor of the Archdiocese of Indianapolis. Prior to this role, he served as the Director of the Department of Catechesis and Evangelization in the Diocese of Joliet. His background includes 10 years in leadership roles within the church, as well as time in business consulting and teaching. He holds an undergraduate degree in Marketing from the University of Florida and Master of Business Administration (MBA) from UNC Chapel Hill. He is married to his wife Laura, and they have 6 children.